MAYOR OF ORANGE HOLDS MEET & GREETINGS WITH SENIORS

On Tuesday, October 2, 2012, more than a 100 seniors met with new city of Orange, Mayor Dwayne Warren at the Orange Housing Authority's residential buildings throughout the city. The purpose of the meetings was to introduce seniors to the new administration, as well as, convey to all seniors that his office has an "Open Door" policy. If you would like to speak with the mayor, you can schedule a meeting anytime.

Many of the seniors had concerns that ranged from their fear of being turned down to vote in this year's election to cars that drive fast down certain streets, making them fearful of crossing. The mayor and the city administration addressed each concern and were able to assure residents that this is truly a new day that will have new initiatives. The mayor also emphasized the need for seniors to get involved in the community, as it takes a village.

The warm welcome included the Orange Housing Authority, Executive, Walter McNeil, Jr., and Orange Housing Authority Staff. The "Meet and Greet" was a daylong event that concluded with lunch in the senior conference room at 340 Thomas Boulevard.
